

Competition for research funding continues to rise, globally. Yet research offices and research administrators are being pressed to do more for their researchers with less resources. Researchers and research administrators need a platform that identifies new funding resources and potential collaborators while offering insights and short-cuts to help research organisations win a larger share of available funding.

Pivot-RP unifies Pivot® and Research Professional in one platform, bringing together the most trusted funding awareness solutions for hundreds of the world’s leading research institutions.

Pivot-RP provides a highly customisable interface allowing seamless integration with institutional branding as well as the ability to promote other research office services and guide users to additional resources.

Pivot-RP Essentials

- Access the broadest global coverage of available funding opportunities in a single, editorially curated database
- Discover tens of thousands of funding opportunities worth billions of dollars from across the widest variety of funding types
- Track and share funding opportunities with colleagues, get alerts and updates on deadlines and other significant changes
- Enable the Pivot-RP Funding Advisor that automatically recommends funding based on a researcher’s specific profile
- Locate potential collaborators from within and outside your institution across millions of scholarly profiles
- Include internal funding opportunities to promote additional funding available for your institution
- Communicate effectively and efficiently across your organisation with built-in groups, recurring newsletters, and many features to share funding information
- Search thousands of conferences requesting “call for papers” to present and publish with the built-in Conferences and Papers Invited database

Accelerate your research funding!

Extensive Reports and Analytics

Use the advanced reporting features in Pivot-RP to share funding information, generate a variety of reports, track individual usage activity, and demonstrate the value of the service.

Global News and Intelligence

Researchers need trusted intelligence for making better decisions. Research Professional News provides timely and trusted information focused on research policy, research funding and higher education around the world.

Funding Insight

Inform your strategies with our searchable database of more than 3 million previously awarded grants, across dozens of international global funders and growing.

Seamless Partner Integration

Integrate seamlessly with tools like ORCID, InfoReady, and more to streamline researchers’ workflows.

World Class Support

Pivot-RP is backed by a world class, geographically distributed, support team. Get help for administrators and end-users, including via live Chat. Take advantage of an extensive online knowledge centre, on-demand training, and other resources.

Pivot-RP helps you find the right funding and partners to accelerate your research

Learn more and get in touch with us:

www.exlibrisgroup.com/pivot-rp

