

Content Operations

Dear colleagues,

I'm pleased to share that we have reached the mark of 10 million portfolio updated daily as part of our Data Excellence initiative.

These portfolios will be updated automatically for existing collections from the following providers: JSTOR, Cambridge, ProQuest eBook Central, Elsevier, and Walter De Gruyter.

We have reached another landmark for content, with 15 million bibliographic records in Alma! As we are constantly adding new content to the Knowledge Bases, we are also very close to cross the milestone of 40,000 collections in the Knowledge Bases.

One of the sources for new content is Idea Exchange, in which we keep getting new ideas for missing content. As we keep going over older ideas, we have already reviewed almost a third of the ideas opened since 2017, most of which are already supported in the Knowledge Bases and CDI.

For those of you travelling to ELUNA - have a safe trip, I'm looking forward to meeting you in person in sunny Los Angeles.

If you have any comments or feedback on this newsletter, please feel free to reach out to me directly.

Best,
Tamar
