

Content Operations

Dear colleagues,

I am pleased to invite you to our first 2023 content webinar – Data Excellence at your service. Join us to learn about what we accomplished with the Data Excellence initiative over 2022, what are the

As we begin the new year, I would like to thank all who attended the Q4 content webinar:

Content Transformed – 2022 Highlights and a Preview of 2023 Focus Areas

If you missed it, the PDF and recording are available in this page along with other 2022 webinars.

We are pleased to inform you of a new improved workflow to add peer review indications for CDI records. This project has been one of the CDI advisory group initiatives, and we are thankful for their input.

To increase the number of peer review indicators, we found reliable resources (other than Ulrich) such as Eric, Erau digitalcommons, AIMandhuma and others.

Thanks to these resources, we have added peer review indicators to more than 45 million records in CDI. Thus, improving retrieval and increasing the number of peer reviewed resources displayed for your users.

I am also pleased to present our Q1 2023 content roadmap highlights – you are welcome to get a glimpse of our plans for new content until March 2023.

If you have any comments or feedback on this newsletter, please feel free to reach out to me directly.
