2024

Dear community members,

I hope you all enjoyed the holiday season, and had a well earned vacation with your family and friends. Wishing you all the best for the new year.

The recording of the December webinar can be found here, and the slides are attached. I am also sharing the results of both surveys given during the session with the participants' responses in the attached excel.

As there were several questions about Unpaywall, I would like to confirm we are aware there are issues regarding Unpaywall results, we are checking what can be done to improve the quality and accuracy of the results.

Thank you for joining "Yes, we're open! Open Access in Knowledge Bases and Discovery", your participation is much appreciated.

I am also happy to share the Q1 2024 roadmap highlighting new content plans for the Content Operations team, with no less than four new authority vocabularies to be added to Alma! These invaluable additions are part of our efforts to support DEI through various content related actions. Three of these vocabularies have been requested through Idea Exchange, and we are happy to support the community's requests that come through this platform.

The roadmaps can be found here for Alma, SFX and 360KB.

Another collection recently added after being promoted via Idea Exchange, is the new Open Access video collection Cassyni Research Seminars, featuring recorded seminars on research and articles. You can read more about this resource in our newly featured Idea Exchange section in the Community Knowledge Center, including Idea Exchange statistics and collection addition highlights.

As part of giving content more focus, we launched a new Content designated section in the Knowledge Center. You can find all your content needs in one place including recorded webinars, previous newsletters, Idea Exchange information, Knowledgebases and CDI statistics and more. The KB Release Notes will also be stored in this new location, with the content corner of each product redirecting to the new location. If you have any content related topics you would like to see in the new Content section - feel free to reach out directly to me and share your ideas.

Get to know Content Operations - introducing Maya:

I have been working at Ex Libris since 2021 as a Content Ingestion Analyst. During this time, I have acquired valuable experience, actively contributed to improving data quality, ingesting new content to CDI, and onboarding new colleagues who join the team.

Working daily with content feeds, I review the metadata and analyze related issues to improve the accuracy and integrity of the feed. My tasks include actively tracking and prioritizing tasks for the discovery team, and I enjoy seeing new packages successfully being added for the benefit of the community.

Recently, I returned to work after giving birth to my baby girl, Shachar, in June. I am thrilled to be back and grateful for the meaningful and enjoyable work that I have.

I wish you all a wonderful new year, may you accomplish all your endeavors and fulfil your resolutions!

If you have any comments or feedback on this newsletter, please feel free to reach out to me directly.

Best,

Tamar
